PHILANTHROPIES

In 1979, Alpha Delta Pi adopted Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) as its international philanthropy. RMHC helps keep families with seriously ill children together by offering them a comfortable, temporary residence near a medical facility. Our sisters provide support to RMHC by volunteering, donating supplies and hosting events to benefit both local RMHCs and the RMHC Endowment at the Alpha Delta Pi Foundation. The endowment provides direct grants to RMHCs that may not have local ADPi support. The ADPi Foundation administers the sorority's philanthropic activities, as well as provides scholarships, grants for members in need, funding for educational and leadership programs, and grants to preserve Alpha Delta Pi's history as the first secret society for college women.

Alpha Sigma Alpha's philanthropic partnerships are the Alpha Sigma Alpha Foundation (since 1986), Girls on the Run International (since 2012) and Special Olympics (since 1976). Alpha Sigma Alpha encourages members to participate in national service and charitable giving efforts as well as supporting those in their local communities. Alpha Sigma Alpha's ritual states, "Life is not taking in only; it is giving out too. It is giving ourselves—freely—to other people, giving ourselves in comradeship, in understanding, in joy, in love." This belief is demonstrated in the many ways Alpha Sigma Alpha members express their care and concern for others through support of the Sorority's service and charitable giving endeavors.

PHILANTHROPIES

There are three aspects of philanthropy in Tri Delta: sisters helping sisters through Tri Delta's Foundation; a commitment to changing the way the world treats and defeats childhood cancer through work with local and regional children's hospitals and pediatric cancer initiatives; and a national partnership with St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. In 1974, Tri Delta adopted childhood cancer as their philanthropic focus and, today, collegiate and alumnae chapters support local and regional children's hospitals and pediatric cancer initiatives across North America. Since forming a national partnership with St. Jude in 1999, Tri Delta has raised more than $84 million in support of St. Jude's mission to find cures and save children, including the single largest completed commitment to St. Jude—$60 million in just eight years—in 2022. Through Tri Delta's Foundation we support our members through scholarships, emergency financial assistance and transformational programming.

PHILANTHROPIES

Delta Gamma's motto is "do good," chosen by our three founders. Our ongoing pursuit to do good persisted when, in 1936, a member who was blind petitioned to adopt Service for Sight as our official philanthropy. We later became the first women's organization to form a charitable foundation. Service for Sight promotes access and advocacy for people in the blind and visually impaired community, including supporting five Delta Gamma Schools for Children with Visual Impairments. The Delta Gamma Foundation supports individual members by awarding merit and need-based scholarships, graduate fellowships and crisis grants. The foundation also funds training and programming for mental health, diversity, equity and inclusion, hazing prevention, alcohol and sexual assault education and leadership development. Delta Gamma exists to empower women to act with intention so they become an unstoppable force for good.

Delta Zeta Sorority’s national philanthropy is hearing and speech. Our national philanthropic program, Heart for Hearing, provides a variety of ways in which our chapters and members raise money and volunteer for hearing and speech. Through our partnership with the Starkey Hearing Foundation, members can support their work around the world, with Starkey fitting and giving more than 100,000 hearing aids annually. In 2020, we added a partnership with the American Society for Deaf Children to broaden our domestic impact through awareness and education. Through this partnership, Delta Zeta members can learn more about American Sign Language (ASL), gain a greater understanding of deaf culture, spread awareness and become informed and effective allies of the deaf community. Delta Zeta also partners with SeriousFun Children’s Network for our global service project. SeriousFun is made up of 30 member camps and programs around the world offering life-changing camp experiences to children living with serious illnesses and their families, totally free of charge. The Delta Zeta Foundation provides support for the sorority’s leadership and service programs, awards scholarships to members and maintains the Delta Zeta Historical Museum in Oxford, Ohio.
